ODY'S FRIEND KILLS LEOPARD BARE-HANDED

resident Tells All About It In His Contribution to a Magazine for November.

YORK, Oct. 22.—Theodore lt, writing in the November of Scribner's Magazine, gives unt of his first encounter with can game.

friend, Carl Akely of Chicago, killed, bare-handed, a leop- ich sprang on him," he says. d already wounded the beast crippling it in one front and d paw, whereupon it charged, him as he tried to dodge the and struck him full just as he

t him in one arm, biting again in as it worked up the arm the wrist to the elbow; but rew it, holding its throat with er hand and flinging its body side. It luckily fell on its side two wounded legs uppermost it could not tear him. He fell with it and crushed in its ith his knees until he distinct- one of its ribs crack; this, said was the first moment when he might conquer.

Chokes Beast's Life Out.

oubling his efforts, with knees nd, he actually choked and crushed the life out of it, although his arm was badly bitten."

Mr. Roosevelt devotes considerable space to telling how he brought to bay and finally killed a lion. The description begins at a point where the hunter is standing beside his mount, considering what he shall do if the lion charges and cannot be stopped by a well directed shot. The writer continues:

"Now an elderly man with a varied past, which includes rheumatism, does not vault lightly into the saddle, as his sons, for instance, can; and I had already made up my mind that in the event of the lion's charging it would be wise for me to trust to straight powder rather than to try to scramble into the saddle and get under way in time.

Fires Fatal Shot.

"I could still not see the lion when I knelt, but he was now standing up, looking first at one group of horses then at the other, his tail lashing to and fro, his head held low and his lips dropped in peculiar fashion, while his harsh and savage growling rolled thunderously over the plain. Seeing Simba and me on foot, he turned toward us, his tail lashing quicker and quicker.

"Resting my elbow on Simba's bent shoulder, I took steady aim and pressed the trigger. The bullet went in between the neck and shoulder and the lion fell over on his side, one foreleg in the air. He recovered in a moment and stood up, evidently very sick, and once more faced me, growling hoarsely. I think he was on the eve of charging. I fired again at once and this bullet broke his back just behind the shoulders, and with the next I killed him outright, after we had gathered round him."

E. O. Upthegrove made a successful catch of fish one day last week, catching seventeen barrels of nice large bream, perch and trout at one haul with a drag seine on Lochloosa lake. This is the largest catch of fish ever known on the waters of this lake. The fish were all disposed of within the limits of the county.

Quite a large crowd of the young people of Island Grove and Lochloosa enjoyed themselves Friday night at a fish fry on the banks of the beautiful Lochloosa lake. It was about 8 o'clock when the fish arrived and therefore it was quite a late hour before supper was ready, but when the fish were done they were certainly nice, because they were fried by a crack-a-jack fish-frier. All present enjoyed themselves immensely.

J. N. Hayman is having some repairs done on his house on the corner of Lake avenue and Chestnut street, which will add vastly to the looks of things.

J. R. Tompkins visited relatives at Island Grove Sunday.

T. C. Holden of Hawthorn was in town Tuesday. He came for the purpose of purchasing a drove of beef cattle. He also inspected his turpentine interests while here.

GEORGIA CITY "AT OUTS" WITH PRESIDENT TAFT

No Official Reception Will Be Tendered His Excellency Upon His Visit to Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Ga., Oct. 22.—After a spirited debate the Columbus Board of Trade last night tabled a resoluiton to appoint a committee to act in connection with the city authorities and meet and officially welcome President Taft to Columbus when he passes through this city on the night of Nov. 3, en route from Birmingham to Macon.

While the President's stay will be only ten minutes in duration, W. L. Lott, L. H. Chappell and other members of the board thought that even a temporary visit on the part of such a distinguished personage should be marked by some official reception and welcome, and if his visit was not officially recognized in that manner it would be a "slam on the city."

Mr. Lott offered a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee on reception, and it was tabled after a discussion in which its passage was opposed by Mayor Rhodes Browne, F. B. Gordon and others, the motion to table being offered by Dan Joseph, a member of the committee that went to Washington some time ago and invited the President to visit Columbus, securing his acceptance of the invitation.

The mayor stated that so far as not appointing a committee on reception being a "slam on the city" it would be a reflection upon the city's dignity to continue to press its attentions upon the President. He said that every member of the committee that went to Washington could testify to President Taft's positive promise to make Columbus a visit if he made his Southern trip.

Mayor Browne said that the President's stay of ten minutes here could not be considered a visit, and that any how the Presidential party would scarcely expect any official reception during such a short stay.

Mr. Gordon in his remarks expressed doubts if the distinguished gentleman would be awake at the time of his arrival here 9:50 p. m.

Mr. Chappell said that it would be a reflection upon Columbus if no official welcome and reception were tendered the President, and if the Board of Trade and City Council should decline to appoint a committee he would be in favor of calling a mass meeting so that the true sentiment of the people on this subject could be expressed.

The motion to table was adopted by a vote of perhaps three to one. The Board of Trade sent a committee to Augusta last winter, and to Washington a few weeks ago, to secure a visit from President Taft.

Crosses of Honor Only for Veterans Who Fought

HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 22.—Crosses of honor for the living veterans of the Confederacy; monuments for the dead—such was the sentiment expressed and voted most emphatically yesterday by the United Daughters of the Confederacy in the third day's session of their National general convention. The strife that developed over this question proved to be the greatest so far of the convention.

The question of awarding of crosses of honor was precipitated by a motion submitted by Miss Alice Baxter of Georgia, who sought to have the lines broadened so as to give crosses to the lineal descendants of the veterans and to the relatives of those who fell on the field of battle. The motion was lost, as was a motion made by Mrs. D. Reynolds of Kentucky, to provide crosses for collateral descendants of veterans. The convention decided to furnish crosses of honor only to those of the grizzled veterans who have gone through the shock of battle.

Other than the settling of the vexing questions of the crosses of honor, the report of Mrs. L. Eustace Williams of Kentucky, the treasurer-general, was a feature of the day's session. In the routine sessions the reading of State reports was resumed and continued until late in the day.

The climax of the convention will come today when the election of general officers will be held and the selection of the next convention city comes up. Mrs. I. W. Faison of North Carolina and Mrs. Virginia McSherry of West Virginia are looming up formidably for the president-general's chair.

The fight for the next convention city has narrowed down between Richmond, Va., and Little Rock, Ark., with sentiment apparently in favor of the Virginia City.

Passed Over "Dead Line;" Ten Miners Are Killed

HARTSHORNE, Okla., Oct. 22.—Ten miners are dead, two are injured and one missing as a result of an explosion in mine No. 19, of the Rock Island Coal Mining Company. Nine bodies were recovered. The men are believed to have gone beyond a "dead line" with lighted lamps in entering the mine, the lamps igniting escaping gas. The fact that Dan Hughes, a sub-boss, was with the other men, suggests the theory that the men were arranging the air courses to carry out the gas when one or more of the men passed over the "dead line." Hughes was alive when taken from the mine, but never regained consciousness.

This is the third largest catastrophe in the history of the McAlester mining district. In the Dengan mine near Wilburton, in 1905, nineteen men were killed. Twenty-nine men were killed on August 28, 1902, in the Hailey-Ola mine near Haileyville.

RUFUS GLASS AGAIN IN TOILS OF THE LAW

CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT OF A HORSE.

Rufus States That Horse Had Been Given Him to Trade, But Afterwards Denied.

Rufus Glass, a well-known colored horse trader, has again got into trouble, this time by being charged with embezzlement of a horse belonging to Cork Bellamy.

Rufus was arrested here by Sheriff Ramsey on Friday and given a preliminary hearing before Judge Mason, who bound him over in the sum of $500 for his appearance at the next term of court.

Bellamy claims that he delivered to Glass a horse in good condition, and that the defendant was to take same off and sell him or make a trade for the better, but after selling the animal he took the money and used it personally.

Glass, on the other hand, claims that the animal died on his hands while he was en route to Ocala, near Martin station, in Marion county, all of which he will prove at the proper time, but in the meanwhile he is confined in the county jail until a sufficient bond is raised.

A MARVELOUS RECORD.

Party of Hunters in San Felaska Hammock Capture Many Squirrel.

Alachua county, especially the San Felaska hammock section, has always enjoyed an excellent reputation for the plentiful supply of game, but a party returning from the hammock Thursday afternoon at a late hour broke all records, as far as squirrel-shooting is concerned.

Tired of life over a hot bake oven, after several "threats" R. T. Schafer, the genial proprietor of the Keystone Bakery, decided to take a day or two off, and consequently, in company with David Newman and W. H. VanNetta, early Wednesday morning hied himself away to the thickly infested hammock of San Felaska in search of the festive squirrel.

Upon arriving at the hammock early in the morning a tempting breakfast was prepared, but not before the trio had succeeded in bagging fifteen or twenty squirrel each. After breakfast a short rest was taken, when the party again proceeded to slay everything in sight that looked like a squirrel, with the result that by Thursday the party had managed to bag 210 of the little animals.

The squirrel were loaded into the wagon and brought home, with the result that all Mr. Schafer's neighbors, as well as the neighbors of his companions, will be feasting on fried squirrel, squirrel pie, stewed squirrel —in fact squirrel "any old way"—for the next day or two.

Mr. Schafer says he has enjoyed mighty fine luck on all former hunting occasions, but this was a record-breaker. The festive little animals would actually come down and wink and run over their feet while they were seated at their meals around the camp fire.

An Organ Recital.

A dozen or more women had gathered at a home on Walnut street to attend a business meeting of a society to which they belonged. Before they commenced to talk business one of the women had to tell everybody about her recovery from a recent operation for appendicitis. After she got through it reminded another of an operation she had gone through a few years ago for the same thing, and it took some time to tell about it. That reminded a third of an operation she had once gone through, and when she finished telling it another of the visitors started to tell her experience on the operating table.

At this moment a quiet little woman in one corner of the room arose to go.

"I thought," she explained to her hostess, "that this was to have been a business meeting, but it seems to be an organ recital."—Philadelphia Times.

The Key of Death.

The "key of death" is apparently a large key which is shown among the weapons at the arsenal at Venice. It was invented by Tibaldo, who, disappointed in love, designed this instrument for the destruction of his rival. The key is so constructed that the handle may be turned around, revealing a small spring, which being pressed a very fine needle is driven with considerable force from the other end. This needle is so very fine that the flesh closes over the wound immediately, leaving no mark, but the death of the victim is almost instantaneous.

Strong Paper.

A single United States treasury note measures three and one-eighth inches in width and seven and one-quarter inches in length. It will sustain without breaking lengthwise a weight of forty-one pounds, crosswise a weight of ninety-one pounds. The notes run four to a sheet, a sheet being eight and one-quarter inches wide by thirteen and one-half inches long. One of these sheets lengthwise will suspend 108 pounds and crosswise 177 pounds.

NIC FRANCISCO ASSAULTED LAST NIGHT

FIGHT OCCURRED AT NIC FRANCISCO'S FRUIT STORE.

Oscar Johns, a New Addition to the Greek Colony, Was the Assailant.

One of the most exciting fist fights witnessed in Gainesville for a number of years occurred in Nic Francisco's place on the south side of the square shortly after 7 o'clock Friday night.

From what could be learned, Francisco was kneeling on the sidewalk in front of his store handling fruit, when Oscar Johns, a new addition to the Greek colony from Tarpon Springs, accosted him. Words were exchanged and Johns kicked Francisco, when the latter sprang upon his feet and the two men clinched in the doorway. A tremendous crowd soon gathered and excitement was at fever heat for some time until Policeman Robert Owens and Deputy W. G. Richardson arrived upon the scene and arrested all parties concerned, when Marshal Dell arrived and required bonds for them to appear before Mayor Davis this morning. There has been ill feeling between Francisco and some of the other Greeks for some time past, and one gentleman says that about twenty minutes prior to the fight Johns passed Francisco and told him if he did not quit selling grapes at 15 cents a basket he would beat him to death.

Mending a Broken Heart.

An Atchison young thing had a heart that ached, her honey boy having taken his affections elsewhere, and her father recently shut himself up with her to reason with her. "That honey boy averaged spending 50 cents a week on you," he said. "Here's a dollar a week to take his place. Every time he called he cleaned out the refrigerator. Your mother will see to it that your brothers do this in future. He kept you up late nights. Your baby sister is cross, and hereafter you will let the baby do this for you. He took possession of the most comfortable rocker on the porch. When you look at that rocker in future it will not be empty, bringing the pang to your heart that your silly novels tell about. It will be occupied by the man who paid for it, and that's me. Your mother and I stayed by you through colic and teething and are going to get you through this if we have to take turns spanking you. Now take your eyes off the moon and look at the dust around you."—Atchison Globe.

The Demon Rum.

The subject given out for an essay in one of the public schools was "The Evil Effects of Alcohol." Here are extracts from some of the compositions:

"Alcohol has a very marked effect on the doctor's conclusions in cases of sickness."

"Medical men say that fatal diseases are the worst."

"Some people think the abuse of drink is a sin, others think it is all right, and others take it as a medicine."

"At the present day many people are in jail for committing suicide while under the influence of strong drink."

"Doctors say that the increased death rate from the effects of boozing shortens life."

"Alcohol mocks at you, and at last it biteth like a servant and stingeth like a bee."

"The Bible says look not on the wine when it is red, but Rhine wine is not hurtful."—New York Press.

Animals Are Poor Sailors.

The polar bear is the only wild animal that likes a trip on the water, according to a French scientist who has studied its behavior at sea. He is quite jolly when aboard ship, but all other animals violently resent such a voyage and vociferously give vent to their feelings until seasickness brings silence.

The tiger suffers most of all. He whines pitifully, his eyes water continually, and he rubs his stomach with his terrible paws. Horses are bad sailors and often die on a sea voyage.

Oxen are heroic in their attempts not to give way to seasickness. Elephants do not like the sea, but they are amenable to medical treatment. A good remedy is a bucketful of hot water containing three and a half pints of whisky and seven ounces of quinine.—Fur News.

E. Marcionny, editor of The News and also deputy sheriff at Alachua, was among the visitors to the city yesterday. He says that cotton has made Alachua lively and that the recent sale will help the town to a large extent.

Dr. A. A. Murphree, president of the University, left yesterday for Arcadia. He goes to join the educational party who are now touring the State in the interest of this question and will be absent from the city for the next few days. MANHATTAN COMPANY.

Another Creditable Performance By a Creditable Company.

Again at the Baird the Manhattan Theatre Company showed their ability in a play entitled "Wyoming," but which in reality is about the same as the old and familiar "Arizona," seen and appreciated so much in this city.

An increased audience greeted this second performance of this clever company, and that they are entitled to more than the patronage accorded them is easily attested by any who have seen their performance in this city, for they are far above the average of the repertoire companies that tour the country at popular prices.

The play of last night was an improvement over the opening night. Gordon Hamilton, as Lieutenant Belmont, and Miss Kramer, as Miran, were all that could be asked, while the work of Jack Parsons and Bayley gave excellent support.

All of the others, although in minor parts, made the most of their opportunities, giving a production seldom witnessed in a popular-priced attraction. The specialties between the acts are all good.

Imperfect Digestion

Means less nutrition and in consequence less vitality. When the liver fails to secrete bile, the blood becomes loaded with bilious properties, the digestion becomes impaired and the bowels constipated. Herbine will rectify this; it gives tone to the stomach, liver and kidneys, strengthens the appetite, clears and improves the complexion, infuses new life and vigor to the whole system. 50 cents a bottle. Mr. Bishop Here.

Among the visitors to Gainesville Friday was R. J. Bishop of Eldridge, Volusia county. Mr. Bishop was a resident of this county about twelve years ago, being engaged in the mercantile and tie business at High Springs, but is now postmaster of Eldridge, and is also conducting a mercantile and naval stores business at that place. He was en route home from Jacksonville, where he has been in attendance upon the meeting of the Turpentine Operators' Association, and reports having one of the best times of his life.

Mr. Bishop reports labor scarce in Volusia county, the orange and other industries having a tendency to keep everybody employed at this season of the year. There will be a good crop of fruit in that section.

Is Building Nice Home.

F. P. Douglass, who owns and conducts a farm a short distance from the city, evidently has faith in Gainesville, like many others, for he is erecting on a lot recently acquired on East Arlington street, corner Evans, a substantial and handsome five-room cottage.

It is said by contractors that this cottage will have advantages over many others, possibly in health as well as comfort. Mr. Douglass is making his pillars sufficiently high to permit of plenty of room under the house, which is one of the suggestions of pure air from a practical standpoint.

When finished, this home will be one of the prettiest in that section of the city.

Box Again in Service.

Fire box No. 64, which has been out of commission for some time past owing to a broken spring, which was discovered only at the fire last week, has again been repaired and is ready for all emergencies. Parties in that section will take notice and be governed accordingly.

No wonder that foreigners consider us extravagant. The total Japanese budget for next year is $264,500,000, while the tentative 1910 amount for New York City alone is over $148,000,000.

Every now and again we read of some clergyman who quits the ministry in disgust, giving as his reason that no man can keep in the ministry and be honest. It is safe to say that almost invariably the quitter is himself to blame because of his own incompetency or of certain personal failings.

Courtesy in business attracts, and holds customers and is therefore one certain way of attaining business success. Take two clerks, one courteous and obliging, the other gruff and inattentive, and see how invariably customers go to the clerk of pleasing address and obliging manners to be waited on.

The hat which Senator Joseph H. Humphries lost at the State press banquet at Key West in 1907 has been returned to him by mail. There seems to have been no celebration of the return of the headpiece, but, judging from the remarks that were made when it was lost, one is due, says The Times-Union Short Talks.

Contentment is not always a desirable thing or an evidence of wisdom. Some people are content to live in a hovel and to lead idle, shiftless lives day in and day out the whole year through. They would better have a spirit of discontent that will not be appeased until the hovel is discarded for a neat, comfortable dwelling, and idle shiftlessness gives way to industry and order.

WE DON'T KNOW MUCH.

In all ages and in all countries human nature seems to be about the same, and is controlled by the same motives and impulses.

Many of the things we now do by machinery China does by hand, for if done by machinery they fear that it would throw those following certain avocations out of employment, and great suffering would ensue.

For a long time we held to the same opinion and so did our English ancestors.

When what were called "flying machines" were established in England—coaches holding as many as six passengers and going at a speed of fifty miles a day in the summer time—they were loudly extolled as being the swiftest vehicles ever before known in the world; yet they were vigorously opposed by those whose axes were being dulled and put out of commission by their establishment.

It was contended that this rapid mode of conveyance would be fatal to the breed of horses and would destroy the noble art of horsemanship; that the Thames, which had long been an important nursery of seamen, would cease to be the thoroughfare of travel and its glory would depart; that saddlers and spurriers would be ruined by hundreds; that numerous inns, at which mounted travelers had been in the habit of stopping, would be deserted, and would no longer pay any rent; that the new carriages were too hot in summer and too cold in winter; that the passengers were grievously annoyed by invalids and crying children; that sometimes the coaches arrived at their destination too late for supper and would start too early for breakfast, and hundreds of other objections were urged.

So when the spinning wheels and looms were supplanted by the larger manufacturing plants, riots ensued because those who had spun and carded by hand saw nothing in store for them but beggary or starvation.

So, also, when the first cylinder press was invented it had to be done behind closed doors, and when the first issue of The London Times was printed at the speed of fifteen hundred per hour, printers were dumbfounded, and they saw their occupation, like Othello's, fleeting away from them.

And so in this country, when the Mergenthaler type-setting machine was put upon the market the printers bade a long farewell to the printing trade, but the result has been that all these great labor-saving machines have given a great employment to labor.

Where the newspapers were four and eight pages they are now sixteen and twenty pages and sometimes as many as eighty. Printers are everywhere in demand, and the hours of labor have been shortened and the prices paid have been very much enhanced.

See how those two inventors, one in Georgia and one in Kentucky, who anticipated Fulton in the invention of the steamboat were ridiculed by the Governors of those States and laughed to scorn about the idea of iron floating!

And poor Morse, how he was ridiculed by Congress when he applied for aid in his efforts to establish an electric telegraph line from Baltimore to Washington! "Why not," they cried, in ridicule, "let it extend on to the moon!"

And see how those men who wanted the Government to aid in exploration of the Western States were scouted, and all that immense and valuable territory was condemned as unfit for human habitation.

And see, too, how we Southern people thought that the institution of slavery was necessary for the development, peace and tranquility of our section, and if it were disturbed how we thought that we would all go to the demnition bow wows, and this beautiful and delightful land would become a picture of a howling waste. No less a statesman than Ben Hill drew this picture after the conflict was over!

But see how wonderfully it is developing and prospering!

Twenty-story buildings in Atlanta and ten and twelve-story buildings in Jacksonville, and larger newspapers printed in Florida than were printed in New York before the Civil War!

We don't know much. We are not good prophets. The impossible of yesterday is fast becoming the commonplace of today.

How we laughed at the proposition of building a railway to Key West and the draining of the Everglades! Yet we are doing both, and the neglected section of the State is destined to become the chief stone in the edifice!

No; we don't know much. Our vision has its limitations, and perhaps it were better that it is so, for we might forget that we are mortals, and chafe at our dependence upon a higher source.—Ocala Banner.

When several hundred people met together in Massachusetts the other week in expectation that the world was coming to an end they took up a collection. Was it force of habit that made them do it, or did some man with an eye to business manipulate it in his own interest? Anyway some of the enthusiasts were so sure of the end of all things that they sold all their property and put the proceeds on the plate.

Exposure to Wet, dampness and cold, invariably results in a sudden chill, which if not attended to immediately will cause a cold. By mixing a teaspoonful of Perry Davis' Painkiller in half a glass of warm water or milk, the whole system will be heated and the danger of cold avoided. Avoid substitutes, there is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'. Price 25c, 35c and 50c.

CHILD'S DREADFUL SKIN TROUBLES

Had Sixty Boils when but Six Months Old—Was Annually Attacked by a Humor—It Looked Red Like a Scald and Spread Over Half Her Head—Both Troubles are Cured.

NO PRAISE TOO HIGH FOR THE CUTICURA REMEDIES

"When my little Vivian was about six months old, her papa had a boil on his forehead. At that time the child was covered with prickly heat and I suppose in scratching it, her own head became infected for it broke out in boils, one after another. She had about sixty in all and I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment which cured her of them entirely. Then, sometime later, her little foot got sore between the toes. Being afraid it was salt rheum, I spoke to our doctor. He gave me a powder which dried it up, but soon after it broke out behind her ears. They cracked half way around and the humor spread up on to her head until, on several occasions, it was nearly half covered. The humor looked like a scald, very red with a sticky, clear fluid coming from it. This occurred every year. I think it was toward the spring. I always bathed it with warm water and Cuticura Soap and applied Cuticura Ointment which never failed to heal it up. The last time it broke out was when she was six years old. It became so bad that I was discouraged. Then I procured a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent which soon cleared it out of her blood. I continued the use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment with the Resolvent until she was perfectly well. She is now about eight years old and has never been troubled in the last two years. We also find Cuticura Resolvent a good spring medicine and we are just giving the children Cuticura Resolvent Pills as a tonic. We do not think any one can praise Cuticura Remedies too highly. Mrs. M. A. Schwerin, 674 Spring Wells Ave., Detroit, Mich., Feb. 24, 1908."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor of Infants, Children and Adults consists of Cuticura Soap (25c.) to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (50c.) to Heal the Skin and Cuticura Resolvent (50c.), (or in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of 60) to Purify the Blood. The Tampa Tribune says: "Soon it is expected that Tampa will supply the entire south of Florida with candy." An important step in this direction was when G. H. Durham and J. F. The Queen Bee.

The truth is that throughout all the wonder workings of the beehive the queen is little more than an instrument, a kind of an automaton, merely doing what the workers compel her to do. They are the real queens in the hive, and the mother bee is the real subject. The workers have made her for their own wise purpose, just as they make the comb and the honey to store in it. The egg she is hatched from is in no way different from any worker egg. If you take one from a queen cell and put it in the ordinary cell it will hatch out a common female worker bee, and an egg transferred from worker comb to a queen cell becomes a full grown queen. Thousands and thousands of worker eggs are laid in a hive during the season, and each of those could be made into a queen if the workers chose. But the worker egg is laid in a small cell, and the larva is bred on a bare minimum of food at the least possible cost in time, trouble and space to the hive, while when a new queen is wanted a cell as big as your finger tip is built, and the larva is stuffed like a prize pig through all its five days of embryo life until, with unlimited food and time and room to grow in, it comes out at last a perfect mother bee.—Van Norden's Magazine.

Evasion.

"See here, you, sir!" cried her father "Didn't I tell you never to enter my house again?"

"No, sir, you didn't," replied the persistent suitor. "You said not to 'cross your threshold,' so I climbed in the window."—Exchange.

Then He Wouldn't Have It.

"How much of an income do you think you could live on comfortably?"

"I think I could manage to be very comfortable on about $10,000 a year until my wife found out that I was getting that much."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The want ads. do more real estate business than all other brokers combined—in fact, they "start" most of the business that the brokers and agents finish.

THE CAMERA.

Some of the Wonderful Things of Which It Is Capable.

The camera, which divides time into thousandths of a second and records the impressions of each, makes permanent pictures of events which pass too quickly for the dull human retina to recognize. It is only through the camera that the motions of the wings of flying birds and of the legs of swift running animals have been analyzed. To the camera the fuzzy drivers of the swiftly speeding locomotives stand out clear cut and stationary, while each flying drop of rain in the driven storm is distinct and seems frozen in its place. The tarpon fisherman, familiar with the first wild leap of the frenzied fish as it casts hook and bait fifty feet in the air, sees first in the finished picture the outstretched gills, the convulsive opening and closing of which had escaped his eye, however closely he may have looked for it.

Often the eye of the camera will decipher documents of which the writing had been substantially obliterated by age, and I have successfully copied with the camera the utterly faded photograph of a classmate of forty years previous and thereby been enabled to present to a grizzled veteran a likeness of his curly haired youth Changes in the pigment of the skin undiscoverable by the eye appear with distinctness on the sensitive plate, and it is said that ample warning of approaching disease has been thereby given.

By means of the invisible rays lying beyond the violet of the spectrum objects may be photographed in the darkness and, with the aid of the so called X rays, through substances otherwise opaque. When from the darkness of night and storm the forked lightning flashes, the camera makes a vivid and permanent picture of each fiery trail. Creatures that travel by night can be "caught" in the brief blaze of a magnesium charged pistol, the flash of which is of too short duration for the creature to move or the dull human eye to recognize the subject.—A. W. Dimock in Van Norden's.

ST. CHARLES Hospital, Quebec City. One of our sisters, who commenced to take Peruna, has improved and will continue to take it. Some others are trying it also. Sr. Ste. Marie, Superior.

CONVENT of St. Laurent, near Montreal, Mother House Sisters of the Holy Cross.

After using Peruna for two or three months, several members of the community have experienced such good effects that they can recommend its use to others. Sisters of Holy Cross.

HOSPITAL for Incurables Notre Dame de Grace, near Montreal.

Notre Dame de Grace Hospital for Incurables, having used Peruna for several months, recommends it highly as an excellent tonic, and it is with pleasure that we add our testimonial to the others.

HAVING used Peruna for the past few months, for our sick and poor, we are happy to say that it has given us great satisfaction. The Sisters of the Good Shepherd, Montreal.

After a continued use of the remedy this institution has found no reason to change its good opinion of the remedy and expresses its satisfaction in the following terms:

"WE found Peruna a relief in several cases.

"We can say it is a good tonic and we are very thankful." Sisters of the Good Shepherd.

One of the many hospitals which have found Peruna of value in treating old and obstinate cases of catarrh is the Hospital St. John, who writes as follows:

"WE are happy to tell you that your Peruna has given us satisfaction. Three patients have tried it, one 68 years old. Renoni Dupuis, afflicted with catarrh, is much relieved, more than he has been for a number of years.

"A young girl, 15 years old, had an obstinate cough, which half a bottle of Peruna caused to disappear.

"As to myself, two bottles have convinced me that Peruna is magnificent as a tonic. Before the treatment I could not walk for a quarter of an hour without experiencing much fatigue. Now I can walk a mile easily.

"Through these three cases we desire to make known to the public the efficiency of your remedy."

TELEPHONE TALKS

The Long Distance System

One of the most valuable features of our service, to our subscribers and to the public generally, is our connection with the extensive long distance lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the other associated Bell Telephone companies.

We own thousands of miles of long distance lines in the seven States in which we operate and in addition can connect any telephone in our system with lines extending to any other city in which a Bell Telephone system is operated.

These long distance lines are of the most modern and improved construction and are maintained at a high state of efficiency. The Bell systems operating in various sections of the country, are uniform in their equipment and in their methods of operating.

Only by reason of the traffic arrangement between Telephone companies is it possible to get a Bell Telephone almost anywhere. Just ask for "Long Distance" and be put in communication with almost any point in the country.

This vast network of wires, radiating throughout the nation, is used daily in commerce and for social purposes by the banker, the farmer and citizens in all walks of life and our plant here is an important link in this great chain.

JAPAN A LAND OF COLOR.

Farms of Two or Three Acres Divided Into Many Tiny Fields.

Land is so scarce in Japan and the people so numerous that a farm rarely consists of more than an acre or two. These little farms are divided up into tiny fields. During the season of the year in which we made our journey one of these fields was filled with sprouting barley, light green in color; another field, perhaps the next, with vetch, a lavender colored, cloverlike fodder; a neighboring field with a dark green grass from the seed of which a lamp oil is manufactured; another with the pale yellow flowers of the mustard, and scattered here and there fields filled with what looked like a variety of lily, some white, some red, some yellow, but all equally brilliant.

Then to get the complete picture you must imagine patches of flowering azaleas dotting the roadside; towering, round topped camellia trees breaking the sky line with frequent splashes of bright green; usually in the shade of these trees houses with white plastered walls and red tiled roofs; about the more pretentious of these houses white plastered walls, above which appeared a profusion of palms, roses and strange native flowers, and in the doorways of the garden walls kimono clad Japanese girls, the kimonos as many and as gayly colored as the garden that framed them.

I have traveled in but one other country that is so gayly colored, and that was some few years ago, when, in the company of a number of other youngsters and an evil smelling magic lantern, I used to make frequent visits to the Land of Primary Colors.—George MacAdam in Outing Magazine.

Good Kitchen Company.

One housewife in this town doesn't know anything about the servant problem, at least so much of it as has to do with the keeping of a maid of all work, the quality of such service not being counted. This is because her servants always become devoted to her because of her brightness and magnanimous treatment of them. Having only the one servant of doubtful skill and accomplishments, this housewife has to spend a good deal of time in her own kitchen. The other day Julia expressed her appreciation this way:

"Miss Fanny, yo' ce'tinly is good kitchen comp'ny."—Louisville Times.

Two Hamlets.

Sir Beerbohm Tree and Wilson Barrett gave London their production of "Hamlet" almost contemporaneously. A well known wit who was asked his opinion of the dual Hamlets nonchalantly made answer: "Tree's Hamlet is funny without being vulgar, but Barrett's is vulgar without being funny."

The awake person reads the want ads. every day—and answers some almost as often.

Very Misleading.

Battersby came across this interesting item in the household department: "If men would answer their wives kindly and courteously when asked for money it is undoubtedly true that the amount requested would not be half as much as it would be if the husband's reply was surly and antagonistic."

Battersby read this item over twice to make sure he grasped its meaning, and just then his wife entered the room.

"George," she said, "I want some money."

Battersby smiled affably.

"Yes, my dear," he pleasantly remarked, "and how much do you want?"

Mrs. Battersby stared at him in amazement.

"I said I wanted some money."

This time she spoke with much distinctness.

"And I asked you how much you wanted," Battersby merrily reminded her.

"Fifty dollars!" she snapped.

Battersby almost fainted. He had imagined she was after $5 and that his genial tone would cut the amount to $2.50.

But he handed over the fifty without further ado—and then tore the misleading item into infinitesimal fragments.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Panthers as Household Pets.

"A British official in an out of the way Persian district invited me to stay at his house for a night," narrates a globe trotter. "I was comfortably settled upon a sofa just before dinner when my rest was suddenly disturbed by a loud bang at the sitting room door, which, flying open, admitted two enormous animals, which I at first took for dogs.

"Both of them made at once for my sofa, and, while the larger one curled comfortably round my feet and composed itself to sleep, the smaller one seated itself on the floor and commenced licking my face and hands, an operation which had I dared I should strongly have resented.

"But those white, gleaming teeth and flashing green eyes filled me with something akin to terror. To my relief, my host entered at this juncture.

"'Making friends with the panthers, I see,' he remarked pleasantly. 'They are nice, companionable beasts.'

"That may have been true at the time. The fact remains, however, that three months afterward one of them devoured a native child."—London Telegraph.

Nature Sometimes Makes Mummies.

Natural mummification, the changing of the human body into a dried condition without artificial treatment, is an extremely rare phenomenon. In a case reported by Hon. S. Wolffsohn of British Honduras, a middle aged cooly who disappeared between January and March, 1907, was found more than a year afterward, on May 6, 1908, in a corrugated iron hut as a perfectly preserved mummy. The hut, in a somewhat isolated spot at Sibun, was raised on blocks four or five feet above the ground and had a door and three shutters, one shutter being open, while one had fallen out. The body was clothed in a cotton underskirt, dark jersey and duck trousers, two pieces of rope around the neck proving self strangulation. The desiccation seemed to have been favored by a combination of conditions, the season having been extraordinarily dry and the small iron house excessively hot, though well ventilated, while the body was thin and attenuated as a result of mental disorder.

A Banquet

Spread before you would do you no good if you couldn't eat. What good can food do a child when as soon as it enters it's stomach it is eaten by worms. That's the reason your baby is ailing, cross, pasty-faced and thin. Give it White's Cream Vermifuge. It will expel the worms and act as a tonic for the child. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Just One Sentence.

"They say that Stevenson frequently worked a whole afternoon on a single line."

"That's nothing. I know a man who has been working the last six years on one sentence."—Boston Transcript.

The Two Power Standard.

"England thinks her navy ought to be just twice as large as that of her principal rival."

"My wife likes to regulate her wardrobe along those identical lines."—Pittsburg Post.

Woman's Beauty

Some women retain their beauty to an advanced age. But women, who regularly endure pain, age rapidly, for suffering leaves its lasting marks on them.

Nearly all women suffer more or less with some form of female trouble. It should not be neglected. Avoid the pain—treat yourself at home by taking Cardui, as thousands of other women have done. Begin at once and give Cardui a fair trial.

ADVERTISE IN THE SUN There's a Reason.

GAINESVILLE,

—THE—

University City.

Gainesville is conceded to be the most enterprising as well as the most beautiful city in the interior of Florida. It is located in the very center of the State, half way between the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, surrounded by lands of such fertility as to be capable of producing a great variety of crops; in the heart of the truck-growing phosphate and naval stores belt. She has the best educational advantages in the State, good churches, with edifices which are superior to any town of its size in Florida, with large and consistent congregations; has a climate which cannot be excelled for health and pleasure. All these natural advantages, combined with a progressive and enterprising cosmopolitan citizenship, are sure to make a big city.

There are many natural attractions in close proximity to the city, some of which are Alachua Sink, Paine's Prairie, the Devil's Mill Hopper, Warren's Cave, and Lake Newnan, all of which are reached by private conveyance

Spring Park Stock Farm, the largest and finest live stock farm in the State is only eight miles west of the city and is reached by a good hard road affording a most pleasant drive.

The farmers of Alachua county, of which Gainesville is the county seat "live at home and board at the same place." The temperature is very uniform, scarcely ever reaching the nineties in summer or the twenties in winter. The population of Gainesville is about eight thousand, representing nearly every nationality on the face of the earth, and strangers always meet with a hearty welcome.

The University of Florida for young men and the National Agricultural Experiment Station are located within the corporate limits of the city. In fact, Gainesville has so many things that we must be pardoned if we omit a few of them in the following enumeration of what

ABOUT ADVERTISING—NO. 3

How to Write Retail Advertising Copy

By Herbert Kaufman.

A skilled layer of mosaics works with small fragments of stone—they fit into more places than the larger chunks.

The skilled advertiser works with small words—they fit into more minds than big phrases.

The simpler the language the greater certainty that it will be understood by the least intelligent reader.

The construction engineer plans his roadbed where there is a minimum of grade—he works along the lines of least resistance.

The advertisement which runs into mountainous style is badly surveyed—all minds are not built for high level thinking.

Advertising must be simple. When it is tricked out with the jewelry and silks of literary expression it looks as much out of place as a ball dress at the breakfast table!

The buying public is only interested in facts. People read advertisements to find out what you have to sell.

The advertiser who can fire the most facts in the shortest time gets the most returns. Blank cartridges make noise but they do not hit —blank talk, however clever, is only wasted space.

You force your salesmen to keep to solid facts—you don't allow them to sell muslin with quotations from Omar or trousers with excerpts from Marie Corelli. You must not tolerate in your printed selling talk anything that you are not willing to countenance in personal salesmanship.

Cut out clever phrases if they are inserted to the sacrifice of clear explanations—write copy as you talk. Only be more brief. Publicity is costlier than conversation—ranging in price downward from $6.00 a line, talk is not cheap but the most expensive commodity in the world.

Sketch in your ad to the stenographer. Then you will be so busy "saying it" that you will not have time to bother about the gewgaws of writing Afterwards take the typewritten manuscript and cut out every word and every line that can be erased without omitting an important detail. What remains in the end is all that really counted in the beginning.

Cultivate brevity and simplicity. "Savon Francais" may look smarter, but more people will understand "French Soap." Sir Isaac Newton's explanation of gravitation covers six pages, but the schoolboy's terse and homely "What goes up must come down" clinches the whole thing in six words.

"That Which Is Worth Having Is Worth Advertising For"

The old adage that what is worth having is worth asking for is still true—true of the more intricate life of today.

The thing you want—whether it is a used piano or a home, whether it is a ready-made business or a lost pocketbook—is obtained readily through advertising, and with difficulty, or not at all, through other means.

THE SUN "WANT" ADS. BRING RESULTS

JAPAN A LAND OF COLOR.

Farms of Two or Three Acres Divided Into Many Tiny Fields.

Land is so scarce in Japan and the people so numerous that a farm rarely consists of more than an acre or two. These little farms are divided up into tiny fields. During the season of the year in which we made our journey one of these fields was filled with sprouting barley, light green in color; another field, perhaps the next, with vetch, a lavender colored, cloverlike fodder; a neighboring field with a dark green grass from the seed of which a lamp oil is manufactured; another with the pale yellow flowers of the mustard, and scattered here and there fields filled with what looked like a variety of lily, some white, some red, some yellow, but all equally brilliant.

Then to get the complete picture you must imagine patches of flowering azaleas dotting the roadside; towering, round topped camellia trees breaking the sky line with frequent splashes of bright green; usually in the shade of these trees houses with white plastered walls and red tiled roofs; about the more pretentious of these houses white plastered walls, above which appeared a profusion of palms, roses and strange native flowers, and in the doorways of the garden walls kimono clad Japanese girls, the kimonos as many and as gayly colored as the garden that framed them.

I have traveled in but one other country that is so gayly colored, and that was some few years ago, when, in the company of a number of other youngsters and an evil smelling magic lantern, I used to make frequent visits to the Land of Primary Colors.—George MacAdam in Outing Magazine.

Good Kitchen Company.

One housewife in this town doesn't know anything about the servant problem, at least so much of it as has to do with the keeping of a maid of all work, the quality of such service not being counted. This is because her servants always become devoted to her because of her brightness and magnanimous treatment of them. Having only the one servant of doubtful skill and accomplishments, this housewife has to spend a good deal of time in her own kitchen. The other day Julia expressed her appreciation this way:

"Miss Fanny, yo' ce'tinly is good kitchen comp'ny."—Louisville Times.

Two Hamlets.

Sir Beerbohm Tree and Wilson Barrett gave London their production of "Hamlet" almost contemporaneously. A well known wit who was asked his opinion of the dual Hamlets nonchalantly made answer: "Tree's Hamlet is funny without being vulgar, but Barrett's is vulgar without being funny."

Her Doings.

"His wife made a fool of him."

"What reason have you for saying that?"

"I have his own word for it."

"Good cut!"

"It's plain enough. He says that all he is he owes to his wife."—Houston Post.

The Old Mistake.

"Dat's de tentive, an dat answers a gold trick tomer," said Uncle Eben, "makes de old mistake. Instead o' tellin' Satan to git behind 'im, he thinks he kin git ahead o' Satan."—Washington Star.

Panthers as Household Pets.

"A British official in an out of the way Persian district invited me to stay at his house for a night," narrates a globe trotter. "I was comfortably settled upon a sofa just before dinner when my rest was suddenly disturbed by a loud bang at the sitting room door, which, flying open, admitted two enormous animals, which I at first took for dogs.

"Both of them made at once for my sofa, and, while the larger one curled comfortably round my feet and composed itself to sleep, the smaller one seated itself on the floor and commenced licking my face and hands, an operation which had I dared I should strongly have resented.

"But those white, gleaming teeth and flashing green eyes filled me with something akin to terror. To my relief, my host entered at this juncture.

"'Making friends with the panthers, I see,' he remarked pleasantly. 'They are nice, companionable beasts.'

"That may have been true at the time. The fact remains, however, that three months afterward one of them devoured a native child."—London Telegraph.

Nature Sometimes Makes Mummies.

Natural mummification, the changing of the human body into a dried condition without artificial treatment, is an extremely rare phenomenon. In a case reported by Hon. S. Wolffsohn of British Honduras, a middle aged cooly who disappeared between January and March, 1907, was found more than a year afterward, on May 6, 1908, in a corrugated iron hut as a perfectly preserved mummy. The hut, in a somewhat isolated spot at Sibun, was raised on blocks four or five feet above the ground and had a door and three shutters, one shutter being open, while one had fallen out. The body was clothed in a cotton underskirt, dark jersey and duck trousers, two pieces of rope around the neck proving self strangulation. The desiccation seemed to have been favored by a combination of conditions, the season having been extraordinarily dry and the small iron house excessively hot, though well ventilated, while the body was thin and attenuated as a result of mental disorder.

A Banquet

Spread before you would do you no good if you couldn't eat. What good can food do a child when as soon as it enters it's stomach it is eaten by worms. That's the reason your baby is ailing, cross, pasty-faced and thin. Give it White's Cream Vermifuge. It will expel the worms and act as a tonic for the child. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Just One Sentence.

"They say that Stevenson frequently worked a whole afternoon on a single line."

"That's nothing. I know a man who has been working the last six years on one sentence."—Boston Transcript.

The Two Power Standard.

"England thinks her navy ought to be just twice as large as that of her principal rival."

ADVERTISE IN THE SUN There's a Reason.

GAINESVILLE,

—THE—

University City.

Gainesville is conceded to be the most enterprising as well as the most beautiful city in the interior of Florida. It is located in the very center of the State, half way between the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, surrounded by lands of such fertility as to be capable of producing a great variety of crops; in the heart of the truck-growing phosphate and naval stores belt. She has the best educational advantages in the State, good churches, with edifices which are superior to any town of its size in Florida, with large and consistent congregations; has a climate which cannot be excelled for health and pleasure. All these natural advantages, combined with a progressive and enterprising cosmopolitan citizenship, are sure to make a big city.

There are many natural attractions in close proximity to the city, some of which are Alachua Sink, Paine's Prairie, the Devil's Mill Hopper, Warren's Cave, and Lake Newnan, all of which are reached by private conveyance

Spring Park Stock Farm, the largest and finest live stock farm in the State is only eight miles west of the city and is reached by a good hard road affording a most pleasant drive.

The farmers of Alachua county, of which Gainesville is the county seat "live at home and board at the same place." The temperature is very uniform, scarcely ever reaching the nineties in summer or the twenties in winter. The population of Gainesville is about eight thousand, representing nearly every nationality on the face of the earth, and strangers always meet with a hearty welcome.

ABOUT ADVERTISING—NO. 3

How to Write Retail Advertising Copy

By Herbert Kaufman.

A skilled layer of mosaics works with small fragments of stone—they fit into more places than the larger chunks.

The skilled advertiser works with small words—they fit into more minds than big phrases.

The simpler the language the greater certainty that it will be understood by the least intelligent reader.

The construction engineer plans his roadbed where there is a minimum of grade—he works along the lines of least resistance.

The advertisement which runs into mountainous style is badly surveyed—all minds are not built for high level thinking.

Advertising must be simple. When it is tricked out with the jewelry and silks of literary expression it looks as much out of place as a ball dress at the breakfast table!

The buying public is only interested in facts. People read advertisements to find out what you have to sell.

The advertiser who can fire the most facts in the shortest time gets the most returns. Blank cartridges make noise but they do not hit—blank talk, however clever, is only wasted space.

You force your salesmen to keep to solid facts—you don't allow them to sell muslin with quotations from Omar or trousers with excerpts from Marie Corelli. You must not tolerate in your printed selling talk anything that you are not willing to countenance in personal salesmanship.

Cut out clever phrases if they are inserted to the sacrifice of clear explanations—write copy as you talk. Only be more brief. Publicity is costlier than conversation—ranging in price downward from $6.00 a line, talk is not cheap but the most expensive commodity in the world.

Sketch in your ad to the stenographer. Then you will be so busy "saying it" that you will not have time to bother about the gewgaws of writing Afterwards take the typewritten manuscript and cut out every word and every line that can be erased without omitting an important detail. What remains in the end is all that really counted in the beginning.

Cultivate brevity and simplicity. "Savon Francais" may look smarter, but more people will understand "French Soap." Sir Isaac Newton's explanation of gravitation covers six pages, but the schoolboy's terse and homely "What goes up must come down" clinches the whole thing in six words.

(Copyright, 1909, by Tribune Company, Chicago.)

"That Which Is Worth Having Is Worth Advertising For"

The old adage that what is worth having is worth asking for is still true—true of the more intricate life of today.

The thing you want—whether it is a used piano or a home, whether it is a ready-made business or a lost pocketbook—is obtained readily through advertising, and with difficulty, or not at all, through other means.

CURING CATARRH

Accept Our Advice and Try This Remedy at Our Risk.

Catarrh is a disease of the mucous membrane. The mucous membrane is, one may say, the interior lining of the body. Catarrh therefore may exist in any part of the system.

When the catarrhal poison attacks the mucous membrane, inflammation and congestion are produced and nature fails to throw off the accumulated poisons. The organ which has been afflicted ceases to perform its proper function as nature intended it should. The result is, complication upon complication, which may lead to other even more serious afflictions.

We honestly believe Rexall Mucu-Tone will do wonders toward overcoming catarrh. It is made from the prescription of an eminent physician who made a long study of catarrh, and his great success with this remedy was an enviable one.

We want you if you are a sufferer from catarrh in any form, to give Rexall Mucu-Tone a thorough trial. Use it with regularity and persistence for a reasonable time, then if you are not satisfied, come back and tell us, and without question or formality we will hand back to you every cent you paid us. This is certainly the fairest offer that anyone could make and should attest our sincerity of purpose. It comes in two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain it only at our store—The Rexall Store. J. W. McCollum & Co., corner East Main and Union streets.

R. W. Small of Hague was a visitor to the city yesterday.

J. D. Luther of Old Town is among the visitors to the city.
